INDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

and for Spring Goods Continued Heavier Than Anticipated.

CHANGES IN PRICES

utlook for Future Business Considered Very Favorable, as Grain Moves More Freely and Ground is in Good Condition.

There was a brisk demand last week for all lines of spring goods. There were a good many merchants in the city and their corders as a rule were of liketa proportions so that many jobbers reported their sales the heaviest of any week so far the season. Traveling men also did a good bustness and mail orders direct were of satisfactory proportions. The trade in genera, is much more encouraged over the future prospects than was the case a week ago, owing to the fact that cars are morplentiful and there is a better movement of grain than at any time this year. It is hoped that farmers will no tonger be short of ready dash, and in fact traveling men say that collections in the country hive already shown a marked improvement. In a short time jobbers also expect to see an improvement. The outlook for cross is considered ver favorable, as the groon its in good condition, and as a result all conditions apparently point to a good, brisk trade for the next several months.

The greatest difficulty that jobbers are experiencing at the present time is to get their spring goods rapidly enough to fill their orders. Manufacturers are far behind with their orders and there seems to be no prospects of much relief for some time to come. Freight is also moving showly from the east, so that it takes a long time for jobbers to get the goods after they are shipped.

The markets have held firm on nearly all lines during the week under review. There have been a few fluctuations, however, in lines during the week under review. There have been a few fluctuations, however, in both directions, but most of the changes are rather unimportant. Those who are best posted on the general situation are predicting continued strong markets.

Sugar Remains Unchanged. The sugar market is in practically the same position it was a week ago, no change having taken place on either raws or refined. New York reported a very light demand the early part of the week, but toward the close there was a much better movement. The market may be said to be in a good, healthy condition and higher prices are predicted for the near future.

Fancy October made cheese is getting very scarree and but few holders have same to offer. Those who are on the market with goods are asking from 'ac to 'ac more than they were a week ago. It is still six weeks before new grass cheese will be on the market.

The bean market is a little firmer in tone. California advanced prices are period and the east made a corresponding advance.

The dried fruit market is still a little.

The dried fruit market is still a little easy in tone, but the demand has greatly improved and with the trade that jobbers may naturally expect at this season it looks as though prices would not only be maintained, but advanced.

as though prices would not only be maintained, but advanced.

The only change in canned goods is a little easier feeling in Baltimore and Maryland on spot tomatoes. This change, however, has not as yet materially affected the western market owing to the fact that on the present basis of freight rates it is impossible to lay the goods in for less than obbers are now selling.

The rice market is very active and desirable grades are taken up quickly at full prices. Clean choice and extra choice grades are quotable 4c higher than they were a week ago.

As is generally the case at this season of the year jellies, jams and fancy bottled goods are in great demand, but there has been no material change in prices.

Woodenware, however, is stiffening and jobbers are very certain that prices on practically the entire line will be higher in the near future. One reason for this 1- the fact that actual of the large forter is have practically the entire line will be higher in the near future. One reason for this I the fact that several of the large factor have recently been destroyed by fire, which, of course, reduces the output and as the demand is exceptionally large a shortage is feared. The butter plate manufacturers have already withdrawn from the market temporarily and jobbers say it is impossible for them to keep up their stocks.

The flah trade has been very heavy during the last three weeks, but prices are about the same, with the exception of Holland berring, which is a little weaker.

Cotton Goods Market Pirm.

The market continue very firm for all lines of cotton goods and no reactions are locked for. In fact with the present high price of cotton goods and no reactions are closed for. In fact with the present high price of cotton and advances in labor to greatly interested to the country of the price of cotton and advances in labor to greatly interested to the country of t Cotton Goods Market Pirm.

Rubbers Still Popular.

Rubber goods were again very popular last week and both jobbers and retailers tild a rushing business. The demand is brisk for clothing as well as footwear, as merchants are getting ready for the spring rains. The sloppy weather hus, of course, caused boots as well as sandals to sell at a rapid rate, and wholessiers say that if the demand keeps up the way it has started in they will have no trouble at all in breaking last year's record.

Leather goods are selling as well as could be expected at this time. Morchants are filling in their stocks to some extent, but, of course, most of them have bought about all they need to begin the senson with an it will take a little warm weather to break their stocks to any great extent.

Fruits and Produce,

There was a fair demand for fruits and vegetables last week, but still it was nothing rushing. Green stuff is still in very light supply for this time of the year owing to the killing frosts that virited the south is few weeks ago. The demand so far has been sufficient to prevent prices fr marking to any extent. Fruits are also selling in just about the same notch's they were a week ago. Fiorida strawberries are now gone, but Louisiana stock has arrived and is quoted at E per twenty-four-plat case.

California exiery is nearly all gone, as about the last car of the season has arrived. Present prospects, though, are that some Florida stock will be shipped here this year. Fruits and Produce.

cipts of eggs have been more liberal Receipts of eggs have been more liberal this week and prices have eased off. Poultry has held just about steady all the week. The most of the suck now coming forward is live, as the weather is most towarm for dressed stock. When it does arrive in good condition though, it sells 192, hisher than live stock.

The butter market is a trifle easier than it was a week ago.

WEARE GRAIN AND ELEVATOR CO

Building.

CHICAGO, March &—WHEAT—The consensus of "pit" opinion is that the long wheat has been very nearly cleaned up, that shorts generally have absorbed the offerings, that the future action of values is now dependent on new conditions. Values have declined to an experting basis, lomestic buyers can and are taking hold with more confidence said there has been a moderate revival in demand from shippers. There is a very small stock of contract wheat available for May delivery here. The short in May is in a dangerous position. This does not necessarily mean that May is cornered, we doubt that, but that it can be and might easily congest itself. The fear of this has been an influence upon May shorts the last two days, but the situation is not definite enough to warrant builtish advices on this alone as a basis. If nothing new develops in cash situation or manipulation or concentration of May holdings this wheat market can be profitably sold on railies. We reserve the right to withdraw this solvice if either such developments occur. It does look to be good judgment to await advances before taking selling side, as we have had material decline and open interests in the market are now very limited and action narrow and of Building.

HOGS-There was a very light run of hogs here today for even a Saturday, and, as packers all wanted a few, the market opened active and a shade higher. As there were only about thirty-six loads on sale, it only took a few minutes for everything to change hands and there was no particular change in the market from start to finish. There were ny choice hogs on sale, so that, sithough the market averages higher than yesterday, the top is lower. The long string sold at $7.3 and the extreme range of prices was $7.25 to $7.35.

For the week receipts have been larger For the week receipts have been larger

For the week receipts have been larger than at any time since the week ending February 28. As compared with the corresponding week of last year, however there is a decrease of about 60 head. The marke his fluctuated up and down to some extent, but owing to the more liberal receips at all points the general tendency has been downward. The week closed with the average cost 15465c lower than at the close of last week. Hepresentative sales:

market was not made. For the week however, receipts have been fairly liberal, but not quite up to last week's run. As compared with the corresponding week of last year, there is a gain of about 1,000 head. For the year to date the increase in receipts amounts to over 166,000 head. The market for the better grades of sheep and lambs has been in good sha et all the week and prices have held fully steady. The sales on paper have looked higher, but the quality has also been better. The situation could probably best be described by calling good stuff in active domand at strong prices. mand at arrons prices.

The haif fat kinds, however, have been more or less neglected and have sold at ather uneven prices. As compared with the close of last week it is safe to quote the market all the way from 10c to 25c SpeiSpeiThe feeder market has shown very little change. Receipts have been light, and, as the demand was fairly brink, everything at all desirable sold freely at good, steady prices.
